BIOGRAPHY

Weilin Chen is a Ph.D. candidate in the School of Computer Science at Guangdong University of Technology, supervised by Professor Ruichu Cai. He received a B.S. degree in Software Engineering from Guangdong University of Technology, Guangzhou, China, in 2020. From June to December 2024, he was a visiting student at the University of Cambridge, supervised by José Miguel Hernández-Lobato. His research focuses on causal inference and causal discovery, and his work has been published in top machine-learning journals and conferences, including ICML, WWW, and TNNLS, among others.

EDUCATION

- Guangdong University of Technology Guangzhou, China
Ph.D. candidate, Computer Science, supervised by Prof. Ruichu Cai September 2020 - June 2025
- Univerisity of Cambridge Cambridge, United Kingdom
Visiting Student, Engineering, supervised by Prof. José Miguel Hernández-Lobato June 2024 - December 2024
- Guangdong University of Technology Guangzhou, China
Bachelor's degree, Software Engineering September 2016 - July 2020

EXPERIENCE

- Guangdong University of Technology Guangzhou, China
Postdoctoral Researcher, working with Prof. Ruichu Cai June 2025 - present
- Didi Chuxing Company Project: Long-term Causal Effect Analysis based on Short-term Surrogate
Project internship Annual Distinguished Project November 2021 - December 2022

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Causal inference (especially on Long-term Effect Estimation and Networked Effect Estimation)
- Causal discovery

AWARDS

- National scholarship, 2024
- Funding for visiting the University of Cambridge from Chinese Scholarship Council (CSC), 2024
- 2nd place, 2022 WAIC Causal Learning and Decision Optimization Challenge, 2022
- 1st prize graduate scholarship, 2nd prize graduate scholarship, Freshman scholarship, 2020 - 2024
- Four undergraduate scholarships for three consecutive years, 2017 - 2020
